PSPoste: Email Client for PSP Beta 6.2 (Palm IR Fix)

Hi all,

Here is a new version of PSPoste the famous email client application for PSP written by David Cummings, Ben Biron and Sajeeth Cherian (see http://www.psposte.org for details).

My contribution to this projet is MINOR, all credits should remain to original authors !

What's new then ? It has been linked with latest IR keyboard library (same as PSPIRC), and IR keyboard such as Palm should now work properly. Thanks to Mov from QJ for his help and test.

It is distributed under GNU licence, and sources are provided.

For those who want to import their contact list from Outlook, Sylvain provides them a useful application available here on his blog : http://sylvain.nawrocki.free.fr/blog/

Just thought I'd share, 3.XX version still doesn't work under 3.71-2 kernel on Slim/Fat (Either XMB or eLoader).

Thanks for the update!

Thanks much! I love your work. Now PSPIRC and PSPoste work flawlessly with my Palm IR keyboard. If AFKIM, PSPSSH and PSPPDA are also updated, I'll be able to give away my Targus keyboard!

By the way, if you ever need more help testing, let me know. I have two PSPs (a fat and a slim) and both a Targus and Palm IR keyboard.

Best regards,
Paul

Hey Paul, PSPSSH works perfectly for me with my Palm. Do you have the latest build (1.0.9)?
   mov on Oct 7 2007, 09:20

Hi mov. Thanks for the tip! I must have been using an older version -- as you predicted, the latest build of PSPSSH seems to work fine. Also, I just downloaded the last AFKIM and that also seems to work fine. I feel a bit sheepish now... I do still have issues with PSPPDA -- it seems I have to hold down a keyboard key for the PSP to recognize input from the D-pad or the buttons.

I'm working on a simple text editor, should be available soon

Awesome! Thanks Zx -- I look forward to it. One of the reasons I got a PSP to begin with was that I heard there was a TI-92 emulator available for it! I've been a fan of your homebrew ever since.

I use PSP version 3.90 m33-3 Slim
I downloaded Psposte for the 3.xx, placed it into the Game380 folder, app starts fine, then memory stick indacator starts blinking very fast, and after a few seconds i clicking sound(screen is black all this time) and psp turns off.
Any suggestions ?

the same for me stroogy, but with the 1.50 version, it's working fine
try it with the time machine if you have time
   slurple on May 14 2008, 22:46

The FW1.5 version doesn't work on my psp slim&light with the Time Machine, the FW3X version works fine,m with Time Machine FW3.60, except a little Bug.
You can not delete E-mails and E-mails are always shown as unread, after restarting the app.

It would be very nice if you could update your this homebrew for 4X or correct this bug.

I have written a little LUA Script to day to make it easier for me to delete E-mails.
If some one wants to try it.
http://www.speedshare.org/download.php?id=D232724F12
Select the E-mail mit D-Pad Up and Down and delete it whit Triangle.
The entry doesn't disappear (from the screen of the Lua app) but the Email is deleted.
