PSPVBA: No longer updated and maintained ....

Exophase has released a new full speed GBA emulator for the PSP with awesome performances !

PSPVBA will never reach full speed, since it used classical software emulation technics, that can't be compared to JIT (Just In Time) recompiler based emulators ...

PSPVBA is dead, long life to Gameplay PSP (gPSP, the new GBA emu), and i have to say that i'm really impressed by the work of Exophase , and i'm waitting for new releases !

How can you
silver on Aug 25 2006, 22:07

ZX-81: you are the pioneer in developing emulators...
someone wrote a better one...(or not!?) but we will hold yours in our heart...for ever!!!

I'm sure you'll release a lot of new emus....
cheers...

Just goes to show you there is always someone better around, but still, you are an awesome coder and as XazZ put it, we will always hold yours in our hearts. ALWAYS
Now, go beyond what has been done and create, innovate and inspire the masses with your coding genius.

Thank you for this great emu experience! Not sense the days of the snes emu development have I not been this excited about my PSP.

Thank you for giving me something to look forward too every week (and sometimes every day).

R.I.P. PSPVBA, you still hold a place on my memory card well I hope to see you soon on the web with your fantatic hb! lol

THANK'U!!!

ZX-81 you are one of the greatest programmers for the PSP and it takes a wise man to see he should concentrate his talent on projects that have a brighter future.

I think all your releases are of excellent quality !!

StoneCut on Aug 26 2006, 19:41

Hey ZX - just to say thanks for what you did with "PSPVBA" - it was a kind of giant...very stable, but just a little slow. I think it showed great work and coding though, and it was just a pity that it found itself undone. It has been very gracious of you to help with Exophase's release.

I'm looking forward to the other things you will undoubtedly bring out for the PSP.

It is a pity... Still, good luck with your other projects! I am sure we'll see some interesting things from you (until you run out of machines to emulate... lol).

Maybe you could try to code a proper Amiga emulator for PSP? There isn't any working as it should...

Best of luck!

Barts_706 on Aug 28 2006, 09:04

YEAH ! Amiga would be so great !
